Our stay at Little Dome C comes closer and closer to an end. Almost half of our team is already in Concordia and is busy sorting all our cargo that either stays at Concordia or will be shipped sooner or later to different destinations in Europe.

Here in LDC, we did a final clean-up of the drilling tent today. Organising the transport of boxes, writing packing lists, and getting organised with the new schedule of moving team members from Little Dome C to Concordia kept us busy all afternoon.

As it was extremely windy (around 20 kt) and cold today, we postponed the closing of the workshop to tomorrow.
